We are at a crucial moment of the EU’s history. Never has cooperation been so crucial, because never before have challenges been so global. The experiences gained during the previous period will be helpful in moving forward even more united.

At this moment, the main issue which the participating states of the Danube strategy are faced are the following: minimization of the impact of COVID-19 on healthcare systems and citizens health along with the simultaneous restoration of economic and social activities.

There will also be a great and unique opportunity for promotion of deeper and wider cooperation between EUSDR-EU member states and candidate/potential candidate countries participating in the EUSDR with special focus on the fields of how to make concrete actions from the EUSDR Action plan into the practice.

7th Danube Participation Day – Youth Participation in the Danube Region

Within Danube Participation Day 2020 the first draft of the Guidance Paper for Youth Participation in the Danube Region will be presented. Through this document, participants will have the opportunity to exchange possible ways forward in order to boost cooperation and participation of young people in youth initiatives. Harmonious and sustainable development of the Danube Region – Joint introduction for panels

In this dynamic period for Europe, all available knowledge and experts should contribute to the development of European regions as proven catalysts for growth and added value of European cooperation. Regional development is placed at the centre of Croatia's presidency of the Danube Strategy, as a precondition for economic growth, sustainable social development and strengthening of territorial cohesion. This is also an opportunity to strengthen the role of macro-regional strategies in the cohesion policy of the European Union.

The priorities and financial instruments of the regional policy, as the primary investment policy of the EU, are used to support prosperity, security and improved quality of life for all EU citizens, as well as political and economic stability in Europe as a whole. In line with regional policy objectives, European regions and cities are supported in the creation of new jobs, business competitiveness, sustainable development and improved quality of life for citizens
